

STRIKE BREAKERS ARE IMPORTED BY COMPANY

Cars Running Close to Schedule on All But Two Lines According to Dispatches From Capital City

SUIT FILED ASKING THAT RECEIVER BE APPOINTED

Conferences Result in Street Car Company and Employees Agreeing on Arbitration on All Questions Except Recognition of Union.

Columbus, May 3.—Strike breakers were put on the cars this morning and the indications were that the fifth day of the street car strike would be marked by serious disorder. At 9 o'clock there were 25 cars running and General Manager Stewart announced that the regular schedule on but two lines would be followed today.

A heavy rain in the morning kept the hoodlum element in doors, and resulted in more people riding on the cars than at any time since the start of the strike. The police feared that they would have their hands full later in the day, however, and 39 more special policemen were deputized.

Suit was filed at the instance of David T. O'Brien, taxpayer, asking that a receiver be appointed for the railway company. The men are confident that this move will bring about an early settlement.

Peace in the street car strike now hinges on the question of recognition of the union. Numerous conferences have resulted in the securing of the consent of both the company and the men to submit to arbitration on every question but that one. Cars are now running close to schedule on all but two lines.

Numerous arrests have been made today for minor disorders. Mrs. Anna Barker, wife of a striker, who led a crowd of 500 which was holding up cars on the Camp Chase line, was arrested.

Columbus, May 3.—New efforts to bring about a two-weeks' truce, pending arbitration, in the Columbus street car strike were put forth yesterday.

Rev. Dr. Washington Gladden and city councilmen interested themselves in the controversy and in addition, President R. E. Sheldon of the Columbus Railway and Light Company, who returned last week from Europe, conferred with representatives of the strikers in a friendly way.

At the invitation of President Sheldon, the executive committee of the car men's union attended a conference with himself, General Manager Stewart and Superintendent L. G. White shortly after noon yesterday. After this meeting General Manager Stewart said:

Recognition Only Hindrance.
"The only thing which now stands before a settlement of this difficulty is recognition of the car men's union. Mr. Sheldon assured the men that inspectors and foremen would be instructed to refrain from taking any action against the union, and would consider their original demands, which the men displayed at the conference."

Rev. Dr. Gladden will make an effort this morning to bring the strikers and street railway company together, in the hope of effecting a settlement. Rev. Dr. Gladden last night said:

"I have not been asked to take any interest in this matter, but I feel it my duty to do so as a citizen and neighbor. Accordingly I will act on my neighbors tomorrow morning, reason with both sides and ask them to make an immediate agreement."

After council had adopted a resolution providing for the appointment of President David T. Logan of the city council last evening named Councilmen George Harper, Chris Ross and T. M. Sherman, a committee to present truce and arbitration proposals to railway officials and striking carmen. The committee will meet this afternoon and will then ask both

Three at the Oak street barn could run 15 cars. Regularly 12 cars and 16 Main street cars run out of the barn. Efforts to secure enough men to operate cars from the West Broad street, Merritt street, Milo and Oak street barns were made by company officials yesterday.

A sign calling for men was posted in front of the company's offices yesterday noon and a large number of applications are said to have been filed during the day.

The cars operated from the Merritt street barns yesterday were manned by strangers in civilian dress. Most of them were young men. One young fellow, who was sent out with the first car as an extra man, stepped off when the crowd stopped it on West Town street and was immediately lost in the crowd. He offered no resistance to the threatening crowd, which carried him away from the tracks. He was not in evidence when Officers Norris and Davis succeeded in getting the car started back toward High street.

The company has advertised for experienced motormen and many answers received are from men living out of Columbus. Presence in the city of paid strike breakers is feared because of the effect they would have on the striking men.

Operation of cars, ranging in number from 30 to 40 at different times yesterday, was attended with disturbance. The worst demonstration occurred at West Town street and Glenwood avenue, when a crowd of about 200 young men and boys, not one of whom was a member of the striking force, succeeded in stopping a car of the Central Market division and getting it sent back to the barns.

Superintendent Walsner estimated the distribution of cars from various barns yesterday as follows: Merritt street, 3 or 4; Oak street, 1 or 2; South High, 10 or 12; North High, 6. Highest estimates thus far place the total number at 27, including all divisions.

Officers of the company stated yesterday that they would be prepared to operate about 60 cars, beginning at 6 o'clock this morning.

Councilman O'Rourke struck a blow at last evening's meeting of the city council by offering an ordinance requiring conductors and motormen to have at least 10 days' experience in this city before operating cars. A penalty of $10 to $50 is provided for violations.

Councilman Sherman said that he doubted the constitutionality of the measure and declared it was a futile one. An effort was made to pass it under suspension of the rules, but it was read twice and referred to City Solicitor Weinland. He declined to express an opinion last evening on the validity of the measure.

Councilmen voted to back Mayor Marshall in his efforts to enforce the law and preserve peace when they passed under suspension of the rules an ordinance by Councilman Lewis appropriating $4500 to pay the salaries of 200 extra policemen $22.50 daily for a 10 days' period.

Councilman Eliot, who cast the only negative vote, said the appropriation should not be made until the men are employed.

"Gentlemen, we cannot afford to have the militia come here to preserve order," declared Councilman Ross, in introducing his resolution. "That would give the city a black eye. We councilmen, as representatives of the people, must take some steps to settle this controversy before martial law is declared. We must use every possible peaceable means to avert bloodshed."

Riots Break Out and Several Hurt.
Rioting broke out again Monday in Columbus in connection with the street car strike. Half a dozen arrests were made in some of which penitentiary sentences are involved.

Two men were badly hurt. One is a union motorman, who was assaulted by a crowd; the other was a (Continued on Page 7, Col. 5.)

It is estimated that more than 500,000 tourists will visit the village to witness the much discussed play. More than 500 performers take part in picturing the scenes and incidents in the life of Christ.

BROTHER OF DR. W. H. KNAUSS MEETS TRAGIC DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT AT COLUMBUS

When the morning papers reached Newark Tuesday morning friends were horrified to read in glowing headlines on the front page that Thomas E. Knauss Jr., aged 21 years, son of Col. and Mrs. T. E. Knauss of 18 Wilson avenue, and brother of Dr. William H. Knauss of this city, whom he had often visited, had been fatally killed in an auto accident in East Broad street, Columbus.

Four companions were injured and one, J. H. Shaffer, a traveling salesman of Buffalo, N. Y., died at a Columbus hospital Tuesday morning in St. Francis hospital.

The auto, driven by the late Knauss, was speeding west on Broad street at 10 o'clock Monday night, while a car was being driven by one of the companions.

The Knauss family, who were going in the same direction, did not see the car until it was too late and then it was too late to avoid a collision. SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY

John Santa, Well Known Interpreter, Slashes Fellow Countryman

QUARRELED OVER STRIKE

Injured Man Rushed to Sanitarium and Unless Complications Develop, Will Recover.

A cutting affray that might have resulted seriously, the direct result of the street car strike in Columbus, occurred at an early hour Tuesday morning between two foreigners, John Santa, the well known interpreter, and Andy Peretzky, a molder employed at the Weirle foundry. Santa is now in the city prison, charged with cutting with intent to wound, and Peretzky lies in the Sanitarium, suffering from two stab wounds. His condition, while serious, will probably not prove fatal, according to his attending physician, Dr. H. Cosner.

The two men had been together during most of the day Monday, and in the evening they visited the Andy Veres beer saloon and restaurant, 221 Jefferson street. Everything was quiet until Mr. Veres, who had been in Columbus Monday, brought up the subject of the strike of the street car men. Santa took sides with the company, while Peretzky, who is a strong union man, lined up with the strikers. The argument waxed warm and Santa was finally called a liar.

Shortly after that he left the place and in a few minutes Peretzky departed, saying he was going home. He walked west on Jefferson street and finally, in the darkness, he spied the form of a man standing near the sidewalk. Thinking nothing of possible danger, he walked along until Santa stepped from the shadows, so he says, and renewed the quarrel.

Suddenly Santa struck him twice, but his victim did not know he was cut until he felt the warm blood spurting from the wounds, then he ran toward the Veres place and Santa disappeared in the darkness. A call was sent for an ambulance and the injured man was rushed to the Sanitarium, and Dr. Cosner, who had been called, was waiting to receive him.

The police were also notified and a systematic hunt was started for Santa. Officers Hurlbough and Gorman were detailed to go to Santa's home, Fifth and Wilson streets, to see if he was there, while Officer Moore was sent to the home of a friend to see if he could be located.

In the meantime Captain Bell and Officers Rinehart and Hinzler, working on a tip they had received, located Santa in the basement of the building where he is employed on the north side of the square. They entered the building, searched the cellar and found the man they wanted in hiding. He was taken to the city prison in the patrol and held for his hearing.

This morning Chief of Police Zerbe filed an affidavit against him, charging him with cutting to wound, and he may be given his hearing this afternoon.

Santa conducts a steamship and foreign exchange agency and has always borne a good reputation in Newark, where he has lived for several years past. He is also an accomplished interpreter and speaks several different tongues fluently.

Dr. Cosner, who attended the injured man, was seen this morning by an Advocate reporter and stated that he did not consider Peretzky's wounds as dangerous. One knife thrust entered the right shoulder and the other back of the left shoulder blade. Each penetrated to the depth of about three inches. The depth of the cutting loss a large amount of blood and he would, but unless unusual complications set in, he will recover.

John Santa was given his hearing Tuesday afternoon before Mayor Atterton, and as he was not examined, he was bound over to the grand jury in the case of Santa. He made no effort to deny that he cut the man, but was charged with a deliberate intent to do him harm, and he was committed to the city prison.

LEGISLATURE HAS HAMPERED HARMON

If the legislature had acted on the advice of Governor Harmon taxation reform in Ohio would not be tied up in a conference committee as it is today.

Governor Harmon recommended to this same legislature in a special session last year that it take the first step in taxation reform by creating a state tax commission to perform the duties now divided among a dozen different state boards, that the commission might have the benefit of a year's experience under existing laws before deciding upon needed changes for raising revenues.

Had the legislature acted or that advice such a commission would have been able to point out just where and in what way the existing laws could be changed to best advantage.

The same plan should have been followed at this session. The bill which Governor Harmon helped to prepare for creating such a commission and defining its duties should have been passed independent of any other proposed tax legislation. The provisions of the Longdon bill to increase the Cole and Willis corporation taxes should have been taken care of in an entirely separate measure.

But the Republican majority under control of a c. p. bosses known as "the strategy squad" insisted on the "party program" rather than follow the sensible suggestions of Governor Harmon.

Responsibility for the present snail-gait, therefore, rests upon the Republican majority of the legislature and not upon Governor Harmon.

Stick a pin there, and don't forget it.

Governor Harmon has been honest, sincere and able in his effort to bring about sensible and reasonable taxation reform, and in his respect for the people. His position before the legislature has clearly shown this, yet the Republican majority has been playing politics with his suggestions and at present it is uncertain what will be the result. The benefit of the people is at stake in this matter, and it is hoped that only a Democratic majority in the legislature will be able to bring about a majority of the legislature next November that will also be true and loyal to Democratic principles.

The Times-Star reports that Harmon has lost thousands of votes to the opposing Sunday baseball bill. Well, it is dollars to cents that he didn't lose as many in Ohio as Bill Taft did by signing the Payne tariff bill.

Another congressional district has been heard from with the usual Democratic victory and Aldrich announces his retirement. Cannon is on the tobacco and those congressmen who supported him are being with rival insurgent candidates and the g. o. p. is in a sorry plight. Everything looks Democratic.

WHITE MARBLE PALACE IS DEDICATED TO THE CAUSE OF PEACE AT WASHINGTON

Washington, May 3.—Twenty-one American republics—barring one or two which were having too much trouble at home and could not be present—dedicated a beautiful white marble palace to the cause of peace today. Officially it is to be known as the Bureau of American Republics, but, according to the megaphone men on the rubberneck wagons and in the common workaday parlance of the streets, the glistening structure is referred to as "John Barrett's office." Barrett, being the director of the bureau and the guiding and controlling spirit in the work of boozing the neighborhood and commerce among the countries.

"John Barrett's office," therefore, is an office such as none other in Washington can boast. It is set in the green of the Potomac park, the new play ground for Washington society. Beside it is another building of grey marble—Continental hall, the meeting place of the Daughters of the American Revolution. But Continental hall is a modest little structure compared to it. Further on is a bulky building of granite, in which are the offices of the secretaries of state, war and navy. Their offices are well enough as offices go in that obsolete and dingy old structure. Fifty years ago they might have been considered moderately splendid.

little further off is a small white structure, called the executive offices, in which President Taft does his work.

Not much can be said of President Taft's office when compared to John Barrett's. There are five or six rooms, and it is a sunny, comfortable place, with a colonial atmosphere and a few cheap, mottled green armchairs standing in the corridors, but there is nothing especially distinctive about it. As a matter of fact, the White House itself is just an interesting old mansion, quite plain compared to the office of the director of the Bureau of American Republics.

With the $750,000 which Andrew Carnegie supplied for the construction of the new building, the height of luxury has been attained. The stateliness of the classic architecture is combined with the expansive comfort of the Spanish colonial. There is the dignity of the ages in its facade and the serenity of the present moment in its sunny patio. If the director should tire of contemplating the waving foliage and long stretches of green of the Mall and Potomac park, he could retire to the patio where, beneath the shade of the iron palmetto of many countries, he might sit beside a tinkling fountain. But John Barrett is on the jump from early until late and it is not at all probable that the patio will see very much of him.

The woods of many countries were used in finishing the director's room. At his right hand is the Columbian library, and next door the hall of the republics. Art's have exerted themselves in sculpture and paint to express in harmonies of color and form the aspirations of the institution of which Barrett is the head. The senators and representatives who come to the conference room here, so that the capital may be kept in the gloom to shelter their offices, rise from early until late and it is not at all probable that the patio will see very much of him.

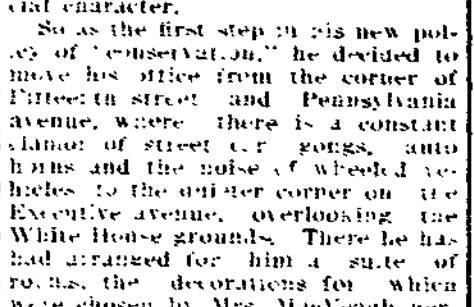

Secretary of the Treasury, MacVegh, whose health recently threatened to break down, has taken steps to conserve the natural resources, and out into a new program for the day's work, which he expects will put him in of considerable stride. The chief of the treasury, with all of the difficulties, through the customs and internal revenue services, the special administration of the government, receipts and disbursements, the control of national banks and the sound and one of the most important of the government's work, as wide-reaching as the treasury's, he is a busy man. This is especially true when it is considered that of his time is consumed during the day by callers of various descriptions. There are all sorts of senators and members of the house of representatives waiting for him, and others directly affecting the interests of their constituents, who or they relate to appointments in the government service, the troubles of those who are in office, or the state of the construction of the public building and the proposed for congress. To those who doors are always being swung wide open, and when are added to them the numerous calls of business, the day is a busy one. The director of the department of friends who come to see him, and the numerous calls of business, the day is a busy one. The director of the department of friends who come to see him, and the numerous calls of business, the day is a busy one.

the various chiefs prepare after their consultations with him on important questions. He does not skimp through them either, but reads them carefully, and is usually particular as to the choice of action employed.

Then, too, he has found time to give his personal supervision to the rehabilitation, which is his favorite method of expressing it, of the customs service at New York; to the reorganization of the special agents' service, and to the inquiries into customs conditions at other ports.

Under this mighty press of business it is scarcely to be wondered at that recently his health threatened to fail. But he has accepted the warning and is now arranging to curtail the amount of business that he must do. Another consideration that has been pressing out of sight of him, which occupies his evenings. Scarcely any man in Washington entertains more than does Secretary MacVegh. He is always giving dinners or receptions to his friends, or attending similar functions of an official or social character.

...a full dozen encores, responding vociferously, and informing his audience that he could stand it if they could. Little Cameron & Co. made a big hit with their laughing success. "The Natty Family." The three members of the company are clever actors, and their delineation of the several characters of the playlet was exceptionally good, better than the usual run of playlets of like character.

The leadlines are "The Four Musical Ventriloquists," and the act is undoubtedly the best musical act ever on in this city. There are four members on the team, one male and three females, and each is a finished musician. Mr. Sun brought them direct from a big vaudeville circuit in the west and states that it is the highest priced musical act which has ever played in Orpheum time. They were repeatedly encores last evening and always responded, giving a number of classes, as well as popular melodies of the day.

All in all the bill this week is exceptionally good and is proving a rare treat to all who attend. The pictures are also high class and very interesting.

"MISS PATSY."

Several Collins, the author of "Miss Patsy," chose for the scene of his play the quaint old town of Annapolis, and the first two acts occur in the old Calvert mansion, overlooking the harbor, where the United States gunboat, the Alaska, is riding at anchor. The characters are, for the most part, members of a touring stock company, playing a week's engagement in the old town, but mixed in the complications are an admiral of the navy, a young lieutenant and a society miss. The cast of "Miss Patsy" is remarkable in that it includes six members of the original "College Widow" company, which was sent to England. Gertrude Quinn is seen in the name part, and she is assisted by Laurence Wheat, Francis Ring, Thomas, Meghan, Maude Egan, Annie Buckley, Dan Mason, Leslie LaMont, Forrest Wipart and others. "Miss Patsy" will be down at the Auditorium theatre Friday night.

MUSIC FESTIVAL COLUMBUS MAY 9-10

The sixth annual music festival under the auspices of the Columbus has a very nice musical act, which is well presented. Leo Gunn is seen as "The Silly Kid" in which he introduces some up to date singing and dancing. Motion pictures conclude the show.

To those who enjoy the best in vaudeville, let it be said that they should not miss Adelaide and her minutes of musical comedy.

AMUSEMENTS

VAUDEVILLE AT AUDITORIUM

Probably without a doubt the best vaudeville act ever seen here is that which is being presented by Adelaide and her company at the Auditorium theatre this week.

The curtain goes up on a bill-board scene, with the billposter, Johnny Hughes, asleep on top, and his four assistants, tiny brothers, having a frolic. The fun ends when Adelaide steps out of a poster and takes up her dance, which is as clever an exhibition of toe dancing as one would care to see. Adelaide is a pe-tently pretty little thing and every move is of grace. Then Mr. Bill Foster wakes up and gives a wonderful eccentric dance.

Adelaide is next seen as a dear little schoolgirl, she sings a song, finishing with dancing. Johnny Hughes and the brothers are seen in an entertaining song and dance and for an encore Hughes and Adelaide dance the hypnotic waltz. But the audience last night was not satisfied with the one response and compelled them to appear again, when they gave a delightful gymnastic dance.

While Adelaide is the feature, the rest of the bill is very clever. Mack and company appear in a sketch entitled "The Blind Beggar's Dream," in which some very superior singing is done. The lady member singing exhibition of toe dancing as one P. Marshall, an old minstrel man, intely pretty little thing and every move is of grace. Then Mr. Bill Foster wakes up and gives a wonderful eccentric dance.

tion Monday evening, for the first time sent him for the first half of the week by the St. & Muray. It is one of the best booked seasons of the season. The theatre was completely filled at both performances. Monday evening and the high class audience are a guarantee that the picture play house will do a capacity business for the balance of the engagement.

The bill opens with the Toss & Austins in which the male member of the team does some very clever comedy juggling. His daughter's clever buck and wing dancer, and the act closes with a song by Mark Lee, the Jewish comedian, who is a ver- am from start to finish, and the audience in an uproar. He re-

PRESIDENT TAFT PASSED THROUGH CITY EARLY TODAY

President W. H. Taft and party passed through the city at 5:45 o'clock Tuesday morning, enroute from Pittsburg to Cincinnati, having left Pittsburg at 2:30 o'clock. The train, a special, which consisted of three Pullmans and a parlor car, was in charge of Conductor Daugherty. No one was aware when the train would pass through the city and consequently there were none of the faithful on hand, and even if there had been, all they could have seen would have been the train, as the president was asleep when the train reached here.

NEWARK COUPLE ARE REMARRIED

A few years' absence from his former wife were sufficient to convince Alfred E. Storm, aged 55, a Newark resident, that the differences between which ended in a separation and divorce, had not destroyed their love. Mr. Myland of Columbus performed the ceremony which united their lives and they will return to Newark to reside.

SEAEVER'S DYSPEPSIA TABLETS

Have you dyspepsia? If you have perhaps you want to get rid of it. You can by taking Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets. We do not print any pictures of before and after taking. You get them by standing before the looking glass. If you don't believe this, try the tablets and you will. We have proved that Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure dyspepsia over and over again. We are ready to demonstrate it in your case, and we will tell you how. Go to the store of Erman and Son and get a package. Take it according to directions. If it cures you, step in and tell the druggist so. If it doesn't step in just the same, and tell him that, and he will hand you right back the ducats you paid him. Do you suppose this offer would be made if we had any doubts about what the tablets will do for you? Do you see any way that you can lose any money out of it? But if you really enjoy dyspepsia, and want to retain it permanently, let Seaver's Dyspepsia Tablets alone, for the tablets won't let dyspepsia alone.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Miss Katydid and the Three Bullfrogs

"CHILDREN," said daddy, "do you know what a quartet is? Well, it's made up of four singers—the bass, the tenor, the alto and the soprano voices. Bass and tenor are men's voices; alto and soprano are ladies' voices. Now, I'll tell you how the bullfrogs saved their lives by making up a quartet.

"Three bullfrogs lived in a little lake on a rich man's front lawn. They swam a good deal, but every night they climbed up on the bank and sang. "Goo-roomp, goo-roomp, goo-roomp!" sang the bullfrogs, now one, now another, and now altogether. The biggest frog sang bass, the next biggest sang tenor, and the smallest frog sang a pretty good alto, though his voice was a little too coarse.

"One night the bullfrogs heard the rich man's son planning to shoot them next day. 'Bullfrogs' legs are mighty good to eat,' said the rich man's boy. 'Yes, but these frogs sing beautifully,' said his chum, 'and it would be a pity to shoot 'em.' If there were only four of 'em,' said the other boy, 'so they'd make a full quartet. I'd let 'em live. But they have no soprano.'

"The bullfrogs huddled up together and talked the matter over. 'Can't you sing soprano a part of the time?' asked the bass frog of the alto frog. 'No, I can't,' replied the alto frog. 'I nearly split my voice wide open trying to sing alto, and I'm sure I can't make notes high enough for soprano.'

"Well, what'll we do about it?" asked the tenor frog. 'We've got to have a lady voice to fill up our quartet or we're goners.'

"Woo-woomp!" said the bass bullfrog, in despair.

"Just then they heard a very high, clear soprano note coming from the bush under which they were hiding. 'Ho!' cried the tenor frog. 'That's Miss Katydid. Maybe we can get her to sing with us, and that'll save our lives.'

"So the three frogs told Miss Katydid how much they needed her, and she said she'd be glad to sing in chorus with them. Then they all four began a song, and the rich man's family sitting out on the front porch listened till 'bedtime.

"The boy and his chum were sitting on the steps, and the chum said: 'Listen there! Those frogs have got their soprano now.' 'Yes, they have,' said the other boy, 'and now I won't shoot 'em. But I wonder where they found a bullfrog that can sing soprano.'

"The three frogs and the katydid had paused for breath, and they heard what the boys said. The frogs laughed away down in their throats, they were so happy."

Has Moved to Iowa.
Mr. Daniel Wagner, who for some time successfully conducted a grocery store on West Church street, has gone to Des Moines, Iowa, where he will engage in business. While here Mr. Wagner made many friends who sincerely regret his leaving the city, but at the same time wish him all kinds of success in his new field of labor.

Kicked by Horse.
A narrow escape from serious injury occurred Tuesday morning to Henry Morgan, living on North First street, when he was kicked by a horse. Mr. Morgan was doing the morning chores in the stable and as he started to go out passed directly behind the horse's heels. The animal let fly both feet, one of which just grazed his shoulder, producing quite a painful injury.

Ascension Day Services.

Mr. H. J. Johns, the well known tonorial artist, is quietly celebrating the thirtieth anniversary of his residence in Newark today. Thirty years ago, May 3, 1880, Mr. Johns came from Garrett, Ind., to Newark, and engaged in the barber business. From the first he was successful and two years after coming here he married and since that time has had a happy home here. Ten children have been born to Mr. and Mrs. Johns, eight of whom survive, seven sons and one daughter. For the past twenty-six years Mr. Johns has resided in the same house on West Main street.

Mr. and Mrs. John Simpson of Spokane, Washington, arrived in Newark Tuesday from New York City, which they just reached after completing a trip around the world. Mr. and Mrs. Simpson will be the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Simpson and Mr. and Mrs. William Zentmeyer.

COMMITTEE WILL SUPPORT AMENDMENT
Washington, May 3.—Senator Elkins today formally notified the senate that the interstate commerce committee had agreed to support amendments striking out the rate agreement and the merger section from the administration railroad bill. In the house the insurgents demand the conference on the bill be elected by the house, instead of appointed by the speaker.

BANKERS SEE GAIN TO WEST IN FINANCING

"Western Money for Western Development" Brought Nearer by Institution for Bond Underwriting.

Chicago, May 3.—Western money for western development, according to prominent Chicago bankers, is the central need which prompted the organizing of a strong underwriting institution. Public Security Company, headed by Homer W. McCoy. The advantage which will accrue to the western territory in the handling of big transactions which heretofore have gone to the big private banking house of the east is the subject of comment.

"The new institution is a plain symptom of Chicago's growing power in the financial world," said George E. Roberts, president of the Commercial National Bank. "It will enlarge the facilities in Chicago for business in the larger fields of enterprise and will to a certainty, tend to increase Chicago's resources. As it is outside the field of common banking, there is no danger of the new company's crowding the field. The necessity to take such business to New York in a measure will be done away with."

"There is plenty of room in Chicago for such an institution," Frank H. Rawson, president of the Union Trust company, has said. "I believe that the new company will have plenty of business here in Chicago. People now doing business of the nature which the Public Security company plans to do, have heretofore gone to New York. The new organization should cause them to keep their business here and it will thus help the city by keeping its money at home."

Howard H. Hitchcock, vice president of the First National Bank, said: "I believe Chicago banks will cooperate in every way with the new Public Security company for it will fill a need. Because of restrictions banks are often unable to touch perfectly legitimate and reliable bond issues the earning power of which has not been demonstrated. The Public Security company can underwrite moderate sized bond issues entire but if need be can advance money for preliminary work."

The head of the new $20,000,000 institution, Homer W. McCoy, who started as a clerk in a wholesale drug house in Peoria, Ill., as a young man, advanced rapidly and established a private bank in 1886 at Cuba, Ill. In 1901 he and William J. MacDonald established the investment bond house of MacDonald, McCoy & Co. in Chicago. In 1902 he was elected president of Illinois Bankers' Association and served for three years as a member of the executive council of the American Bankers Association.

STRENGTH FOR A WEAK STOMACH

Read What a Cincinnati Woman Says About the Tonic Treatment That Brought Back Her Health.

Are you making the mistake of so many sufferers from stomach trouble by using predigested foods, digestive ferments and stimulating medicines in your effort to get relief from your trouble? If so this explains why you are still a sufferer.

To treat stomach trouble with stimulating medicines, which only force the stomach to work beyond its strength, or with predigested food and medicines, which require no work on the part of the stomach, is merely putting the day to a cure but further increases the weakness of the stomach.

Almost without exception stomach trouble is caused by a general lowering of the vitality, either through overwork, indiscretions in living, or sickness. Impoverished blood and weak nerves result. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the most direct cure for stomach trouble because they are a certain blood builder. Pure blood makes healthy nerves and strengthens the entire body. The weak stomach gets plenty of healthy blood and nervous energy, and perfect digestion follows.

Mrs. C. J. Knoll, of No. 3983 Harrison avenue, Cincinnati, Ohio, says:

"After my first child was born I began to suffer from stomach trouble and got no relief for four years. I could eat nothing but light foods and even these caused pains so intense that I can't describe them. My stomach would seldom retain much food and I was troubled with gas and a full lot. I was constipated and sick enough most of the time to be in bed but I wouldn't give up."

"My doctors didn't help me much. They said they could relieve me but did not lead me to expect a cure. I was telling our druggist one day about my case when he asked me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. The pills helped me almost immediately and after I had taken a few boxes was entirely cured. I have never had any trouble with my stomach since and believe the pills will cure anyone who is suffering as I did, if they are taken as directed. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are the best and cheapest medicine I have ever taken."

Our free trial booklet will be sent upon request to any sufferer.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, or will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes for $2.50, by the Dr. Williams Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FRIGHTFUL RUNAWAY ON PUBLIC SQUARE

Nothing but an act of Providence averted what might have been a most disastrous accident Monday evening about 5 o'clock when a horse hitched to a run-a-bout belonging to Colonel George Crawford of the Sharon Veto took away from its hitching-post in front of the postoffice and ran away.

As Mr. Crawford came out of the postoffice the horse took fright at an awning which was being let down nearby. He grabbed the hitching strap but just then a part of the awning broke and the frightened animal started at break-neck speed around the south side of the square, narrowly missing a number of vehicles on the way. He ran onto the sidewalk in front of the Hermann clothing store where two young ladies, Misses Alta and Mary Wells of Cuyahoga were passing. They were knocked down and when the horse struck a glass show-case standing in front of the store, he stopped suddenly, slipped and fell. The scene was frightful, and eye witnesses thought surely the young women were seriously hurt, but after the animal got to his feet and started on up the square, it was found that other than the torn dress and the shock from the accident, no harm was done, not even was the glass broken in the show case.

The horse ran up Third street to Sturgis's grocery, where the wheels of the buggy caught on a telegraph pole and tore the bed loose from the shafts. He ran up the sidewalk to Kent's feed store where he was caught. The horse was somewhat scratched about the legs and body.

STREET CAR STRIKE

special policeman, who was hit with rocks.

While trying to leave the rear of the South car barns at 5 o'clock last evening and go to his home at Frankfort and Mohawk streets, Motorman Fred V. Smith, who had been at the barns all day, waiting to take out a car, was attacked by a crowd, which officers estimated at 200, in City Park avenue between Willow and Beck streets.

His upper teeth were knocked out, his nose was smashed and he received several ugly contusions in the head. Berthillon Officer French and Policemen Buckingham, Armstrong and J. E. Davis went to his rescue and drove the crowd away.

Smith was given medical attention and then taken home in an automobile. Neighbors later threatened him. To a reporter Smith said: "I'm through. I'll never leave my house until the strike is over." He declared he did not recognize any of his assailants.

A riot broke out at West Town street and Glenwood avenue yesterday afternoon, when a crowd of 300 held up a Camp Chase car, No. 547, obstructed the track with curb stones, old furniture and loss, twisted the trolley poles, let out the compressed air and broke a window. Not a striker was in the crowd.

Assistant Conductor Tompkins, one of the three men on the car, attempted to lift a stone from the track. He was roughly handled by the crowd until he was forced to join the union.

Then he deserted the car. Motorman John Creaser refused to step outside the car, but Conductor R. T. Bennett went into the crowd and fought his way to the obstructions, which were then removed. When Conductor Bennett climbed on top of the car to adjust the trolley, four bricks were thrown at him. One went through a window.

Two automobiles filled with policemen were rushed to the scene. Officer Norris arrested F. Weidner for pulling a trolley, a penitentiary offense. This was after he and Officer Ben Davis had boarded the car which.

Free Child's Remedy

What mother is not looking for something that will help her children in the little ills of life, something for the stomach trouble and the bowel trouble? Long ago she probably has become convinced that a child cannot readily swallow a pill or a tablet, and that to "break them in half and crush them" is an annoyance; that usually they work too drastically; and are irritating and too powerful for the little one's system.

Any mother who will take the trouble of sending her name and address can obtain a free trial bottle of a remedy that thousands of other mothers are using and now paying for. This remedy is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, and the offer of a free trial bottle is open to any mother who has not yet used it. Having used it and convinced yourself that it is what you want, you can obtain it in the future of your druggist at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, just as so many others are doing, the free sample being simply to convince you of its merits. It is a best way to begin on it. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, Chicago, and Mrs. Mary Belford, 1110 Coke street, Louisville, Ky., both started with a free sample, and now they are recommending it to their friends. They say they have never been without a bottle in the house since.

It is undoubtedly a great family remedy, as it is adapted to all ages, being mild and pleasant to take and yet thoroughly effective. It is especially the ideal remedy for children and women and old folks, who need something that is natural. It has the advantage of being a thorough laxative and yet contains tonic properties. Use it for the most stubborn constipation, indigestion, fever, trouble, sick headache, sour stomach, and such complaints with a guarantee that it will cure.

Dr. Caldwell personally will be pleased to give you any medical advice you may desire for yourself or family pertaining to the stomach, liver or bowels absolutely free of charge.
